2025 INCOME TAX RETURN INFORMATION PACKAGE

On July 4, 2025 the “The One Big Beautiful Bill” (OBBBA) tax law was signed in to law. Some provisions of this act became effective January 1, 2025. This was the second major change to the Federal income tax laws since 1986! These tax laws supercede the provisions of the January 1, 2018 “Tax Cuts and Jobs Act” (TCJA)

Please complete this “2025 Income Tax Return Information Package”. The first section is the “Personal Data” section for your tax return data that also includes the supplemental data that is required to identify whether or not special tax treatment may be appropriate for your tax return. The second section is the “Financial Data” section that provides schedules to assist us in organizing your “Income”, “Deductions”, and “Expenses” if you operated a business. The information which you provide to me in this document will reduce the time required for the preparation of your 2025 tax returns for both of us.

Although you may have submitted this same information to me in prior years, I review every line item on every page every year to identify any changes that have occurred during the current tax year, and to identify errors that may have occurred in prior tax years that may require the filing of an amended income tax return.

Pages 14-19 of this document will provide a brief summarization of the significant tax law changes from the “OBBBA” for 2025 and thereafter. Please inform me if any of these changes will affect your 2025 income tax returns.**

Your 2025 personal income tax returns are required to be filed and accepted by the taxing authorities by April 15, 2026, unless you request a six month automatic extension of the time to file. However, this automatic extension of the time to file your tax returns does not extend the April 15th deadline for the payment of all of your remaining 2025 income taxes.

I will need to have the soft copy of all tax return-related returns and reports which you will have received from any third party (i.e. your investment firms, mortgage company, etc.). ALL of the data in your tax return has to agree with the data which the IRS already has. Additionally, the data in every block of a report is important and should not be ignored. For example, while a Form 1099 with an amount of $100,000.00 in Block #1 (Gross Distribution) is important but a $ 0.00 amount in Block 2a (Taxable Amount) is even more important!

The “One Big Beautiful Bill Act” (OBBBA) made several MAJOR changes to the Federal income tax laws. However, these tax law changes may, or may not, have been implemented at the state level (if you are also required to file a state income tax return).

For some of the new Federal tax laws, while the law became effective on January 1, 2025, unless the changes are extended by the U.S. Congress, the current provisions provide for an expiration for some these new tax laws on December 31, 2028.

□ 2025 Federal Income Tax Bracket and Long-Term Capital Gains Rates:

2025 Federal income tax bracket rates are: 10%, 12%, 22%, 24%, 32%, and 35%, and 37%

2025 Long-Term Capital Gains Rates – 0%, 15%, and 20%. [Rate is dependent on tax bracket]

Additional Medicare Tax. Beginning in 2013, a 0.9% “Additional Medicare Tax” applies to Medicare wages, railroad retirement (RRTA) compensation, and self-employment income that are more than:

$125,000 if married filing separately,
$250,000 if married filing jointly, or
$200,000 for Single, Head-of-Household, and Surviving Spouse
See Form 8959 and its instructions.

Net Investment Income Tax. Beginning in 2013, you may be subject to the Net Investment Income Tax (NIIT) surtax. The NIIT is 3.8% of the smaller of (a) your net investment income or (b) the excess of your modified adjusted gross income over:

$125,000 if married filing separately,
$250,000 if married filing jointly and Surviving Spouse
$200,000 for Single, Head-of-Household
$ 15,650 for Estates and Trusts

The below categories of tax rates are related and are also applicable:

- Social Security Tax on earned Income (Salaries & Wages) – 6.2% ; Medicare – 1.45%
- Backup withholding for dividends and interest - 28%
- Voluntary withholding on Social Security benefits, and Railroad Retirement (Tier 1) benefits - 7%, 10%, 15%, or 25% (at the taxpayer's choice). No other percentages or amounts are allowed.
- Voluntary withholding on unemployment benefits - 10% No other percentages or amounts are allowed.
- Withholding rate for regular gambling winnings (such as lotteries and sweepstakes) - 25%.

The Accumulated Earnings tax and the Personal Holding Company penalty tax increased from 15% to 20% in 2013 (This is also the top long term capital gains rate for high-income taxpayers).

☐ Capital Gains Tax Rates for the Sales of Investments

The capital gains tax rates did not change in 2025. Therefore, the capital gains tax rates associated with long-term capital gains (investments which were owned more than one year) will usually be taxed at a maximum tax rate of 15% UNLESS you are a “high-income taxpayer” when the 20% tax rate will be used.

In 2013, the capital gains tax rate increased to 20% for “high-income taxpayers”. The same taxable income levels which are related to ordinary income will now determine which taxpayers are subject to the higher 20% capital gains rate. “High-income taxpayers” are defined as those taxpayers with a “Taxable Income” over $533,401 for Singles, $566,701 for Heads of Households, $600,051 for Married Filing Jointly, and $300,001 for Married Persons Filing Separately.

The annual maximum “Capital Loss” limitation remains at $3,000. There is a carryover provision.

Tax brackets & rates were increased in 2025 to adjust for high(er) economic inflation.

☐ Major Tax Law Changes From The “One Big Beautiful Bill Act” (OBBVA) include:

Limit on overall itemized deductions suspended.

You may be able to deduct more of your total itemized deductions in 2025 if your itemized deductions were limited in the past years due to the amount of your adjusted gross income. The old rule that limited the total itemized deductions for certain higher-income individuals has been suspended (it was referred to as the “Pease Limitation”).

Changes to the Standard Deduction

The standard deduction is a dollar amount that reduces the amount of income on which you are taxed and varies according to your tax return filing status.

The standard deduction reduces the income subject to taxes. The “OBBBA Act” increased the “Standard Deduction”. When you elect to use the “Standard Deduction”, you can’t itemize deductions for mortgage interest, state income taxes and charitable deductions on Schedule A, (“Itemized Deductions”).

For 2025, the “Standard Deduction” for each filing status is:

| | |
|--|--|
| Single..... | $15,750 .(up from $14,600 in 2024) |
| Married filing jointly or Surviving Spouse | $31,500 (up from $29,200 in 2024) |
| Married filing separately..... | $ 15,750 .(up from $14,600 in 2024) |
| Head of household..... | $23,625 (up from $21,900 in 2024) |

The amounts above are $1,600 higher if either you or your spouse are blind or over age 65. ***
The OBBB Act provides an additonal $6,000 for 65+ or blind taxpayers.

Most taxpayers have the choice to either use the “Standard Deduction” or “Itemize”. If you qualify for the “Standard Deduction” and the “Standard Deduction” is greater (higher) than your total “Itemized Deductions”, then you should use the “Standard Deduction” and you don’t need to file a Schedule A, (“Itemized Deductions”), with your income tax return.

Deduction for personal exemptions suspended

For 2025, you no longer can claim a "Personal Exemption" deduction of $5,050 for yourself, your spouse, or your dependents. Some tax relief was granted in the higher "Standard Deduction" amounts above.

Deduction for Medical and Dental Expenses modified.

You can deduct certain unreimbursed medical expenses that exceed 7.5 % of your 2025 "Adjusted Gross Income" (AGI).

Deduction for "State and Local Income, Sales and Property Taxes" INCREASED (SALT)

The combined total of your deduction for a) state and local income taxes, and b) sales and property taxes is limited to a total deduction of no more than $40,000 for Married Filing Jointly and Single taxpayers ($20,000 if Married Filing Separate). Any state and local taxes that you paid above this maximum total amount cannot be deducted.

Deduction for Home Mortgage and Home Equity Interest modified and limited.

Your deduction for mortgage interest is limited to interest you paid on a loan secured by your main home or second home that you used to buy, build, or substantially improve your main home or second home.

However, if you do itemize, the interest paid on most home equity loans is not deductible unless the loan proceeds were used to buy, build, or substantially improve your main home or second home.

The "home equity" loan must be secured by the taxpayer's main home or second home (known as a qualified residence), cannot exceed the cost of the home and meet other requirements.

New dollar limit on Total Qualified Residence Loan Balance.

The date you originated your mortgage or home equity loan may also impact the amount of interest you can deduct. If your loan was originated or treated as originating on or before Dec. 15, 2017, you may deduct interest on up to $1,000,000 ($500,000 if you are married filing separately) in qualifying debt. If your loan originated after that date, you may only deduct interest on up to $750,000 ($375,000 if you are married filing separately) in qualifying debt. The limits apply to the combined amount of loans used to buy, build or substantially improve the taxpayer's main home and second home.

Limit for Charitable Contributions modified.

In 2025 the limit on charitable contributions for cash and donated property is 60 percent of your Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) for tax year 2025. This is NOT a factor when you use the "Standard Deduction".

Charitable Contributions

Beginning in 2026, the 60% of adjusted gross income (AGI) limitation for cash contributions to public charities is made permanent. The Act adds a new 0.5% of AGI threshold for itemized charitable deductions, meaning contributions are deductible only to the extent they exceed this amount. Additional rules apply to carryovers and to certain charitable deductions available to non-itemizers, which are not covered here. Strategic "bunching" of charitable gifts into a single year and prioritizing cash contributions to qualifying charities may enhance deductibility.

Deduction for Casualty and Theft Losses modified.

Net personal casualty and theft losses are deductible only to the extent they're attributable to a Federally declared disaster. Claims must include the FEMA code assigned to the disaster. See the 2025 Instructions for Form 4684, "Casualty and Theft Losses", for more information about 2025 disasters.

The loss must still exceed $100 per casualty and the net total loss must exceed 10 percent of your AGI. In addition, you can still elect to deduct the casualty loss in the tax year preceding the tax year in which you incurred the disaster loss.

However, If you do itemize, your personal casualty and theft losses must be attributed to a Federally declared disaster.

"Other Miscellaneous Itemized Deductions" Have Been Temporarily Suspended.

Effective January 1, 2018 the previous deductions for "job-related expenses" or "Other Miscellaneous Itemized Deductions" that exceeded two percent of your Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) have been temporarily suspended. This includes:

Unreimbursed Employee Expenses such as uniforms, union dues and the deduction for business-related meals, entertainment and travel,

As well as any deductions you may have previously been able to claim for Tax Return Preparation Fees and Investment Expenses, including Investment Management Fees, Safety Deposit Box Fees and Investment Expenses from "pass-through entities".

The business standard mileage rate listed in Notice 2025-03 cannot be used to claim an itemized deduction for unreimbursed employee travel expenses during the suspension.

However, If you do itemize, if your Miscellaneous Itemized Deductions previously needed to exceed two percent of your "Adjusted Gross Income" (AGI), they are no longer deductible.

Deduction and Exclusion for Moving Expenses Has Been Temporarily Suspended

The deduction for Moving Expenses is suspended. During the temporary suspension period, no deduction is allowed for the use of an automobile as part of a move. This suspension does not apply to members of the U.S. Armed Forces on active duty who move pursuant to a military order related to a permanent change of station.

Also, employers will include moving expense reimbursements as taxable income in the employees' wages because the new law suspends the former exclusion from income for qualified moving expense reimbursements from an employer. This suspension does not apply to members of the U.S. Armed Forces on active duty who move pursuant to a military order related to a permanent change of station as long as the expenses would qualify as a deduction if the government didn't reimburse the expense.

Unless you are a member of the U.S. military on active duty, you cannot deduct moving expenses and amounts reimbursed by an employer will be taxable income.

Child Tax Credit and Additional Child Tax Credit

For 2025, the maximum Child Tax Credit has been increased to $2,200 per qualifying child. The tax credit is partially refundable! In addition, the income threshold at which the child tax credit begins to phase out $400,000 for Married Taxpayers Filing Jointly, and $200,000 for Heads of Households.

This means that more families with children under 18 may qualify for the higher credit.

Social Security Number required for Child Tax Credit

Beginning with Tax Year 2018, every child must have a Social Security Number issued by the Social Security Administration before the filing due date of your tax return (including extensions) if that child is claimed as a qualifying child for the Child Tax Credit or Additional Child Tax Credit. Children with an ITIN can't be claimed for either credit.

Credit for Other Dependents (New Provision)

A new tax credit of up to $500.00 is available for each of your qualifying dependents other than children who can be claimed for the Child Tax Credit. The qualifying dependent must be a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or U.S. resident alien. The credit is calculated with the Child Tax Credit in the form instructions.

The total of both credits is subject to a single phase out when Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) exceeds certain thresholds.

* THIS MEANS THAT...you may be able to claim this credit if you have children age 18 or over, including college students, children with ITINs, or other older relatives in your household. *******

Repeal of the deduction for Alimony Payments

Alimony and Separate Maintenance Payments are no longer deductible for any divorce or separation agreement executed after December 31, 2018, or for any divorce or separation agreement executed on or before December 31, 2018, and modified after that date. Further, Alimony and Separate Maintenance Payments are no longer included in income based on these dates, so you won't need to report these payments on your tax return if the payments are based on a divorce or separation agreement executed or modified after December 31, 2018.

For Tax Year 2025 Divorce or Separation Agreements executed or modified after Dec 31, 2018 providing alimony will have different tax consequences. The alimony payments will not be deductible for the spouse who makes alimony payments and they will not be included in the income of the receiving spouse.

Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) exemption amount has been increased

The AMT exemption amount has been increased to $8,100 ($137,000 if Married Filing Jointly or Qualifying Widow(er) if Single or Head of Household; $88,100 if Married Filing Separately). The income level at which the AMT exemption begins to phase out has increased to $626,350 for Singles and $1,252,700 if Married Filing Jointly. Topic no. 556, Alternative Minimum Tax | Internal Revenue Service \(irs.gov\)

THIS MEANS THAT...fewer taxpayers will be required to pay the AMT.
